

Employee Engagement | Day in the Life

Foster open sharing and learning

Joe is a new hire at Contoso Express. He has joined Contoso Express as a Senior Product Manager and will use Office 365 to enhance their customer experience group.

 8:00 AM

As a new employee at Contoso Express, Joe receives an email from HR with the link to the SharePoint Onboarding site and is tasked to watch the New Employee Training video on Stream.

 8:30 AM

Joe finds information specific to his role, bios of leaders and peers, and a Wiki on getting started for new employee. He is guided to visit the new SharePoint spaces experience.

 9:00 AM

Joe puts on his mixed reality headset and starts exploring SharePoint spaces. The interactive piece walks him through different areas of the company, including being virtually taken through one of their trains.

 10:30 AM

Joe meets Annabell in the cafeteria and introduces himself as a new employee. Annabell suggests he attend the new employee event. Joe's calendar shows he was already invited and decides he will join.

 11:30 AM

Joe joins the employee event remotely by clicking on the link on the SharePoint site. It's streamed live and offers Joe the ability to ask questions in real-time and receive direct answers from the CEO.

 1:30 PM

Joe notices a live discussion within the SharePoint site, realizes it is powered by Yammer, and spots several conversations that interests him.

 3:00 PM

As he browses through various Yammer groups, Joe finds one that is active with pictures and posts from Contoso Express Firstline Workers serving customers.

 3:30 PM

On Teams, Joe sees several Firstline Worker group conversations and pictures about positive customer experiences, along with areas of improvements to processes and products.

 4:30 PM

Through all of his learning via Yammer and SharePoint, Joe puts together his 30-60 and 90 days plan.
